A new shade has been added to the list of colors. It is a peculiar kind of rose color that is a favorite with the youngest daughter of President-elect Wilson, and it has been named "Nell" in honor of his patron, Eleanor Wilson. It promises to be as popular as the Alice blue of the flannel of former times, now becoming passe. The new color is a delicate tint of rose, and a Parisian gown in which it has been used with marked success.

When J. M. Shuey demonstrated his ability to "come back" as Decatur county's representative, he left his clay-hammer under the desk in his real estate office and put a couple of new, sharp hatchets in his trunk. It is held by Mr. Shuey, and endorsed by a number of other representatives, that what is needed is less knocking and more trimming. It is the Hon. Shuey who first voiced the desire to make the Civil Code a readable and understandable document rather than a Mongolian jig-saw puzzle, and to that end has introduced a bill for the revision of said code.

"Jim" Shuey did not complete a full course when he was studying law some years to the windward, but he has been a close student all his life and is now considered a legal authority in his home county. The seven or eight different interpretations of each fraction of the code have caused him to burn a lot of Mr. Rockefeller's product and have incidentally given him a pain. He has figured out a way to simplify and improve that fearsome volume, and is now engaged in the pursuit of vague points. He chases a vague point with the same ardor that Doc Crumline uses in chasing a microbe around the rim of a cuspidor. This is the second trip to the U. S. House for Mr. Shuey of Decatur, but there is little indication that it will be his last.

They love their teacher. At any hour of the day and several hours of the night, anxious legislators haunt the office of Governor Hodges. They want to ask his opinion on a bill proposed, or to discuss a bill, or to get together in discussion. But the Democrats do not seem to have a monopoly on all the administration support. A number of perfectly good Republicans have been caught supporting the Democratic party platform and the governor's message. And about every time a few Democrats get off the reservation, a sufficient number of volunteer Republicans get out and help round them up. Before the session closes, the legislature may put

Miss Phoebe Brooks, of Kansas City, will come to Topeka Sunday and will play the violin at the evening service in the Presbyterian church. She will be in her studio Monday and will remain for the Genee concert Tuesday afternoon.

Beekkeepers Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Kansas State Bee Keepers' association will be held in the Commercial club rooms at Topeka, February 4 and 5.

Sessions will be held at 8 p. m., Feb. 4, and at 9 a. m. and 8 p. m., Feb. 5. The meeting will close with a banquet. A good program has been prepared, and we especially urge all interested in bees to come out and take part in the discussion.
